

THOUGHT RECORD PART 2: CHALLENGING THE HOT THOUGHT starts with first identifying the cognitive distortion(s) or thinking trap(s) that the thought falls under. Please refer to the Thinking Traps content from session 2.

4. Cognitive Distortions or Thinking traps
All or Nothing Overgeneralizing Mental Filter Disqualifying the Positive Mind Reading Fortune Telling Catastrophizing Minimizing Emotional Reasoning Shoulds Labelling Personalization Overestimation of Threat

EVIDENCE TECHNIQUE

The next 3 columns of the thought record will focus on looking at the accuracy of the hot thought by examining whether there is evidence to support it.

5. Supporting evidence for the hot thought	6. Challenging evidence for the hot thought	7. Alternative Balanced Thoughts