

PROS AND CONS: HOW TO

- 1) Describe the crisis behaviour/urge.
 - An urge is a crisis when it is strong and when acting on it will make things worse.
 - These might be to engage in dangerous, addictive or harmful behaviours, or they might be to give in, give up, or avoid doing what is necessary to build a life you want to live
- 2) Examine the advantages and disadvantages of the behaviour, and then the advantages and disadvantages of resisting the urge/behaviour
- 3) Consider both short-term and long-term consequences. Ask your Wise Mind: Would you rather have a good day or a good life? Make a mindful choice about your behaviour.
- 4) Consider pros and cons for each different crisis urge
- 5) Rehearse pros (of resisting urges) and cons (of giving into urges) multiple times
- 6) Review earlier pros and cons when a crisis urge strikes or if not available, elicit support to assist you with this in the face of a crisis
